

Hannah Hizer

4/10/26

Domain 2C: Managing classroom routines

Below is a photo of our classroom bingo chart:

Reflection:

This is the classroom bingo chart that we use when the students make smart choices. The classroom cash is for individuals, but if they are very kind during their specials or make smart choices throughout the day I will give them a bingo chip. Students also like the incentive of "I think I see a bingo chip in our future" to motivate them to keep doing well. At the end we talk about what their prize can be, often being popcorn and a movie on a Friday. If I notice that the morale for the classroom is low, I will have a quiet hand or a super helper come and pick a chip for us, keeping things interesting and interactive.